Terms And Conditions

By using this Web Site, you signify that you agree to these Terms and Conditions.

The American Tinnitus Association, its representatives, agents and employees (collectively ATA) make no representations or warranties with respect to this Web Site. Specifically, ATA makes no representations or warranties as to the reliability, accuracy, timeliness or completeness of the information and content of this Web Site. ATA disclaims all warranties, either express or implied, statutory or otherwise, including but not limited to all implied warranties of merchantability, non-infringement of third party rights, and fitness for a particular purpose.

The contents of this Web site are solely for informational purposes and are not intended to be a substitute for professional medical advice, diagnosis or treatment. You should always seek the advice of qualified healthcare professionals familiar with your individual medical needs.

Your Use Of This Web Site

The information contained in this Web Site is protected by copyright under the laws of the United States. Title to all such information remains with ATA and all rights not expressly granted herein are reserved to ATA. Any use of such information not expressly permitted by these Terms and Conditions is a breach of these Terms and Conditions and may violate applicable copyright, trademark and other laws.

Links to Other Web Sites

ATA provides links to other Web Sites as a service to you. ATA does not endorse or approve, nor is it responsible for, the content of any third-party Web Site linked to the ATA Web Site. ATA makes no representations as to the content or accuracy of any such linked Web Sites, and your use of any such linked Web Sites is at your own risk.

Waiver of Damages

In no event under any theory of law shall ATA or any third party referred to on this Web Site be liable for any damages (including without limitation incidental and consequential damages, personal injury/wrongful death, lost profits, damages from the loss of data, and similar matters) resulting from the use or inability to use this Web Site and its contents.

Security

The security of your personal information is very important to us and we are committed to protecting the information we collect. The American Tinnitus Association has security measures in place to protect against the loss, misuse or alteration of online information we have collected from you. This includes the use of Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) for processing contributions securely.

Privacy Policy

ATA collects only that personal information you may voluntarily provide in any section of this Web Site. The information collected is proprietary to ATA – and, unless otherwise stated on this Web Site – shall not be shared with any third party.

We respect your privacy and your right to limit the ways in which we contact you. If you receive our monthly e-mail Listserv, you can unsubscribe here.
